

Index

Note: Page numbers followed by “n” indicate notes.

- Abolitionist’s perspective, 143
 - asylum for people seeking asylum, 146–149
 - formalised confinement, 151–152
 - triangle of variable confinements, 144–146
- Absence-and-presence as spatial control, 184–187
- Accidental ethnographer, 195–197
- Acoustic jurisprudence, 164
- Action, 7
- Affect, 220
- Affective habitus, 226
- Affective solidarity, 36, 46
- Agente de Vigilancia y Tratamiento Penitenciario* (VTP), 126
- Alaska, 127–128
- Alien’s centre, 145*n*4
- Anthropology, xxi
- Arab Spring, 76
- Asylums*, 231
 - for people seeking asylum, 146–149
- Atmospheres, 165–167, 220–221
 - and air, 187–190
- Attention, xix
- Attunement, 8–9
 - ‘everyday’ attunement, 12–16
 - in flesh and blood, 16–17
- Audition (hearing), 24
- Auditory knowledge, 6
- Azulitos*, 127
- Bar, ordering attunement in, 8–10
- Being, 211–213
- Bodies, 165–167
- Boundaries, 127–132
- Bourdiesian approaches, 226
- Calabozos*, 98*n*15
- Camp, 149
- Captiception, 25–26
- ‘Captive narratives’ literature, 28
- Carceral
 - acoustemologies, 232
 - city, 222
 - world, 26
- Centers for Correction and Rehabilitation (CCRs), 126, 131, 134, 137
- Centro de Estudios de Justicia de las Americas (CEJA), 126
- Church music, 136
- City Police Jail (CPJ), 95–96, 101–102
- City street, 219
- Civil death, 29
- Climate of prison society, 15
- Code of street, 219–220
- Cognition, 7
- Cognitive habitus, 226
- Communal warm-up exercises, 180*n*5
- Comparing, 214–216
- Conative habitus, 226
- Concealment, 101
- Correctional officer (CO), 197
- Corridors, 112–113, 183
- Courthouse building, 162
- Courtroom, contrasting atmospheres
 - inside and outside, 163
- Creative methods, 35–36
- Criminal justice system, 74
- Criminological scholarship, xxix
- Criminology, xxv
- ‘Crisis of reason’, xxi, 23
- Critique of Black Reason* (2017)
- Cultos*, 135–136

- Cultural
 - citizenship, 79
 - criminology, xxviii
- Decision-making, 226
- Department of Corrections (DOC), 56
- Deportations, 149
- Deprivation of autonomy, 27–28
- Depth in musical sense, 46–47
- Disciplinary time (D-time), 57
- Dominican prison reform process, 126–127
- Dominican Republic, 125
 - Dominican prison reform process, 126–127
 - research methods, 126
 - sounds and noise, 134–136
 - space and boundaries, 127–132
 - visibility and surveillance, 132–134
- Don Dale Youth Detention Centre, 189
- Draga, 84–85
- Earwitnessing, xxix
- Ecology of survival, 16
- Ellebæk, 144–146, 153
 - immigration detention in Ellebæk, 151–152
- Embodied captivity, 26
- Embodied hospitality, 54
- Emotion in sensory landscape of
 - Courthouse, 159
 - atmospheres and bodies, 165–167
 - emotional and sensory experiences, 169–171
 - fear and foolishness, 171–172
 - mapping, 162–163
 - noises, 163–165
 - senses as courthouse ethnographer, 160–161
 - sound of laughter, crying and rumbling stomachs, 167–169
- Emotional regime, 161
- Emplacement, deep appreciation of, 233
- Empty time, 57–59
- Enhanced motivation techniques, 144
- Epistemological intricacies, 24
- Equilibrioception (balance, gravity), 24
- Escuela Nacional de Administracion Penitenciaria* (ENAP), 126
- Ethiopian notes, 203
 - comparing, 214–216
 - going, 204–205
 - hearing, 208–209
 - reflecting, 213–214
 - seeing, 205–208
 - smelling and tasting, 209–211
 - touching and being, 211–213
- Ethnocentrism, 177
- Ethnography, 160
 - ethnographic study, xxvii
- European Society of Criminology (2018), xxii
- ‘Everyday’ attunement, 12–16
- Evocation, 24
 - of memory, xxvii
- Eye contact, 171
- Eyes of the Skin: Architecture and the Senses*, The (1996), 180
- Familiarisation, 7
- Fear, 171–172
- Feeling, 72–73
 - of doing, 75
 - and sensing security, 162–163
- Fire, 21, 30
- Five Senses: A Philosophy of Mingled Bodies*, The (2008), 21
- Fixation on rationality, xxi
- Food, 78–79
- Foolishness, 171–172
- Formalised confinement, 151–152
- Generating empathy, 46
- Ghost criminology, 235–236
- ‘Ghosting’, 12n3
- Ghostly Matters*, 235
- Glitch, 49
- Going, 204–205
- Goletas*, 128

- Great carceral continuum, 222
 Green space, 184
 Gustation (taste), 24
- Haptic expressions, 71n1, 78
 Hearing, 208–209
Hermanidad Emaus, 134
 Hermeneutical injustice, 35
 HIV/AIDS, 195–196
 HMP Midtown, sensemaking at, 10–12
 Hostile Environment, 144
 Human Rights Watch (HRW), 185, 189
- I and Thou* relationship, 60n11, 62n14
 ‘Ideal’ reform prison, 81
Imaginary Penalties, xxii
 Immigration detention in Ellebæk, 151–152
 Imprisonment for public protection prisoners (IPP prisoners), xix
 Imprisonment in Japan, 179–181
 Inhumane treatment, 83
 ‘Instinct’, xxv–xxvi
 Institutional thoughtlessness, 30
 Institutionalisation, 215
 Intangible sensory experiences, 107–108
 Interpersonal touch, 62n13
 Intimacy, 169–171
 Intrauterine devices (IUDs), 195
 Iraq, 127–128
- Japanese prison (see also Prison) approaching Kyoto Prison, 181–182
 imprisonment in Japan, 179–181
 senses of imprisonment, 182–190 sensory reflections on, 177
- Knowing, xxv
 Knowledge-making, 91–92
 Kosovo, 127–128
 Kriminalforsorgen, 151
 Kyoto Prison, 177–178 approaching, 181–182
 contextualising, 179–181
 entering secure spaces of, 182–190
 Kyriarchal system of prison, 154
 Kyriarchy, 154n12
- Language of affect, 227
 Leaving hostel process, 120–121
Life Inside, A (2003), 28
Life Without Parole (1996), 28
- Making Sense of the Sensory*, xxix–xxx
Malcontados, 127
 Mass supervision, 35
Master and his Emissary, The (McGilchrist), xvii–xviii
Measuring the Quality of Prison Life framework (MQPL framework), 126
 Memory, xxvii, 7
 Moving with my research collaborators, 91–92
 Music, 57n8, 136
- National Institutes of Health (NIH), 196
 New penology, 80
 ‘New Prison Management Model’, 125–127
 Nicaragua’s prison punishment, 89 system, 99
 Nicknames, 53n1
 Nociception (pain), 24
 Noises, 6–7, 134–136, 163–165
 Non-governmental organisations (NGOs), 75n4, 126
 ‘Non-smoking’ lounge, 111–112
- Occupancy levels, 82
 Ocular-centrism, 44
 ocular-centric nature of prison research, 26
 Old penology, 80
 Olfaction (smell), 24

- Ontological intricacies, 24
- Order, 3, 16
- Ordering attunement in bar, 8–10
- Organisational theory, 3
- Overcrowding, 82, 127
- Pain, 27
 - of sensory deprivation in prison, 82
- Patience, xix
- Patio*, 128
- Penal power, 89–90
- Penalty, 25
- Perception, 7
- Personal Support Specialist (PSS), 59n10
- Pervasive Punishment*, 36–38, 43
- Pervasive Punishment: Making Sense of Mass Supervision* (McNeill), 35
- Phenomenologies of perception, 21–22
- Physical instructors (PI), 15n5
- Physicality of hostel, 110–114
- 'Picturing Probation' project, 40
- Places, 108
 - production, 114–119
- Pop music playing, 60–61
- Popular music, 43
- Positionality, xxvi
- Post-Revolution Tunisia
 - prison life in, 71, 73–75
 - 'seeing is believing, but feeling is truth', 71–73
 - sensing prisons in transition, 75–81
 - sensual pains of overpopulation, 81–85
- Postcolonial feminist theories, 45
- 'Postmodern' sensibility in ethnography, 232
- Power, 96–99
- Power to Punish, The*, xxiii
- Practising politics, 4
- Prison Service Instructions (PSI), 29
- Prison Service Order (PSO), 29
- Prison(s), 3–5, 26, 29–30, 90–91
 - (see also Kyoto Prison)
 - climates, 15
 - congestion, 82
 - empty time, 57–59
 - infirmary yard, 53
 - life, 27
 - researchers, 203
 - researching dying and end-of-life care in, 55–56
 - transport vans, 83n10
 - warm(ing) hands and hearts in prison 'death room', 59–63
- Prisoners, 54, 61, 77
- Privacy, 84
- Probation approved premises
 - exploring sensory criminal justice experience, 109
 - importance of sensory analytical reflection, 107–108
 - leaving hostel process, 120–121
 - physicality of hostel, 110–114
 - production of place, 114–119
- Proprioception (bodily position), 24
- Pseudonyms, 53n1
- Pub, 3–5
 - making sense of sensemaking in, 5–8
- Public secrets, 90, 236
- Rational knowing, 91
- Re-creation of home, 78–79
- Reflecting, 213–214
- Reflection space, 131
- Reflexive intricacies, 24
- Reflexivity, xxvi, 23–24, 232
- Regional Penitentiary System (SPR), 90n2, 94–96
- Rehabilitation of vision, 235
- Researcher emplacement, 108
- Residents, 114
- Revisionism, 203
- Rhythmanalysis, 7
- Rhythms of social life, 7

- Sandholm, 144–146
 Sandinista ‘revolutionary state-building project’, 100
 Scientific idealism, xxi
 Secrecy, 89–91, 96–99
 Secrets, 99–103
 Seeing, 205–208
 ‘Seen and Heard’ project, 43
 Segregation cell, 57
 Semantic satiation, 47
 Sense(s), 12, 25
 as courthouse ethnographer, 160–161 of imprisonment, 182–190
 Sensemaking, xxiv–xxviii, 4, 7, 72
 in flesh and blood, 16–17
 at HMP Midtown, 10–12
 making sense of sensemaking in pub, 5–8
 Sensing, xxiv–xxviii, 72–73
 carceral worlds, 231–236
 food, smell, and re-creation of home, 78–79 prison secrets, 91–93 prisons in transition, 75 reform, arts, and sensing change, 79–81
Sensing the Field, xxx
 Sensory analytical reflection, importance of, 107–108
 Sensory anthropology, 23
 Sensory criminal justice experience, exploring, 109
 Sensory criminology, 234
 Sensory experience(s), xxi, xxvii, 231 of life, 125
 of social interactions, 114–119 of space, 110–114
 of time in place, 120–121
 Sensory knowledge, xv
Sensory Penalties, xxii–xxiv
 Sensory penology, 55
 Sensory perceptions, 202
 Sensory reflections, 161
Sensory Reflections, xxxi
 Sensory scholarship, 55
 Sensory story about supervision (McNeill), 37–43
 ‘Sensory turn’ in criminology, xxviii
 Sensual pains of overpopulation, 81–85
 Sensuous geographies, 220
 Shame, 169–171
 Shared feelings and emotions, 221
 Sjælsmark, 144–146, 150
 Smell, 78–79
 of justice, 108
 Smelling, 209–211
 ‘Smoking’ lounge, 111–112
 Social competency, 8, 14
 Social deprivation, 58n9
 Social interactions, sensory experience of, 114–119
 Social navigation, 92
 Social organisation, 6
Society of Captives, The (1958), 27
 ‘Sociology of the Senses’, 233
 Sound(s), xxiii, 6, 16, 134–136 of laughter, crying and rumbling stomachs, 167–169 in prison social life, 4–5 of prisons, 57n8
 significance, 9
 Sounding failure, 49–50
 Sounding supervision (Scott), 43–50
 Space, 127–132
 ‘Speaking nearby’, 45
Stockholms Tingsrätt, 162
 Stories, 197–201
 50 Stramninger, 145
 Street, 217, 223, 227
 criminologists, 225
 field, 225, 227
 habitus, 225–226
 studies of street culture, 217, 219
 Structures of feeling, 221, 226
Subverting the Senses, xxx–xxxii
 ‘Supervisible’ project, 40
 Surveillance, 132–134
 Suspension in musical sense, 49
 ‘Swift and Certain Sanction’, 50

- Tactition (touch), 24
- Tangible sensory experiences, 107–108
- Tarmac, 181
- Tasting, 209–211
- Tatami* mats, 188
- Technocratic rationalisation, 80–81
- Temporal sense, 4–5
- Thermoception (heat/cold), 24
- Thirdspace, 223
- Tightness, 120
 - in musical sense, 48–49
- Time, xix
- Touch, 71*n*1
- Touching, 96, 211–213
- ‘Tough on crime’ policies, 54
- Trappedness, 21, 25, 28
- (Un)muting, 93–96
- Unoccupied cells, 188
- Variable confinements, triangle of, 144–146
- Verstehen*, 22
- Vietnam, 127–128
- Violence, 10*n*2, 89, 96–99
- Visibility, 132–134
- Vision (sight), 24
- Visual criminologists, xxix
- Visual sense, 22
- Voice, 232
- Volumetric control measures, 81
- Weight in musical sense, 47–48
- Western criminological scholarship, 179
- Youth culture, 223
- Zombie walk, 83