Index

Activist media practice, 132–134
Adbusters, 107
Aesthetics, 143
Affective labour, 266, 271
Agency, 263
Aggressive marketing, 2
Agony of Russian idea, The, 39–40
Air Force Times, 134
#alllivesmatter, 246
Alternative media’s frames, 88–90
American dream, 40–41
American oligarchs, 97
Anarchism, 197–198
Andalusian trade union of workers, 206
Anti-government protests, 66
Antifascist issues, 29–30
Antisurveillance, 273
‘Arab Spring’, 262, 264
Armed forces (bewaffnete Organe), 31
‘Art as Action’, 20
‘Art of Noises’, The, 13–14
Artistic communicator, 150–151
Artistic skills (AS), 150–151
Audience Data and Reporting, 215–216
Austerity negotiations in Greece, 219
Authoritarianism, 39–40, 101–102
Autocracy, 98
Autonomous Left, 203
Autonomous social movements, 202
Belarus, 69–72, 83
Belsat satellite TV, 86
Bereich 6/ZAIG development, 26–29
in fictional cinema and television productions, 29–33
Betweenness centrality, 149, 250
#blacklivesmatter, 246
#bluelivesmatter, 246
Bolshevik government, 19
Boundaries of collective, 114–116
#Brexit for United Kingdom, 242, 246, 248–251
semantic network, 251–253
Broadcast Network Archetype, 251
Bundesnachrichtendienst (BND), 32–33
Burnham’s theories, 99
Café Futuristov, 18
Café Poetov, 18
California Department of Corrections (CDC), 136
Capital control measures, 269
Capitalism, 264–265
#CatalanReferendum for Catalan context, 242, 248–251
semantic network, 251–253
Chartist movement, 198–199
Chinatown’ case study, 85–86
‘Chinese industrial park’, 3–4
‘Chinese-Belarusian industrial park’, 85
Citizenship Amendment Act, 8
Civil society actors, 61–62
Clandestine unit (operative Diensteinheit), 27
Claustrophobia, 273
Code Pink, 135–136
Codes, 111–112, 116–118
Cold War, 99
Cold Warriors, 100
Collaboration, 141–142
Collaborative protest art, 171–173
Collective action, 108–109
Collective identity, 110–112, 179
Collective voice, 118–121
Common Dreams, 131
Common Good: Ethics and Rights in Cybersecurity’, The, 262–263
Commons, 270, 272
Communication, 111 mechanisms, 2 technologies, 230
Communication ecology, 229
Communication is Constitutive of Organizing (CCO), 111
Communication Mailing List (CML), 148–149
Communication skills (CS), 150–151
Communicative control. See also Soviet communicative control, 51
Communism, 197–198
Comparative cyberconflict analysis of digital activism, 61
Belarus, 69–72
collection to Estonia, 73–75
Crimea, 65–69
digital political culture and resistance publics, 63–65
Concerted coups, 26–27
Congress for Cultural Freedom, 99
Congress of the Comintern, 19
Connective action, 109
Contemporary media industries, 2
‘Conversation’, 111–112
Counterpropaganda (Konterpropaganda), 26
Country’s opportunity structures, 186–187
Craft solidarity, 213
Creative resistance, 135–137
and participation, 171–173
Crime stories, 32
Crimea, 65–69
‘Cultura Viva’, 268
Cyber-optimists, 70

Das unsichtbare Visier (television series), 28–29

Death to Art, 15–16
‘Decentralization-recentralization’ cycle, 56–57
Decision-making, 116
Delhi Nirbhaya Protests, 177, 181–182
Democracy, 98, 274–275
Demonized communism, 99
Department for Agitation (Abteilung Agitation), 25–29
in fictional cinema and television productions, 29–33
Deutsche Film AG (DEFA), 29–30
Differential space, 163
Digital activism, 62–63
Digital Agenda 2020, 75
Digital cultural economies, 62–63
Digital media, 64, 107–108
Digital networks, 143–144, 241–242
Digital political culture, 63–65
Digital technologies, 8–9, 229–231
Direct interactions, 52–53
Dirty cube, 146–147
‘Disclosure’, 232–237
Disinformation campaigns, 26
‘Distributed discourse’ concept, 212–213
District departments (Bezirksverwaltungen), 25–26
‘Double tap’, 135
Drones
activist media practice, 132–134
caucus, 132–133
creative resistance, 135–137
grounding, 127–132

‘E-residency’ programme, 75
East German Public, 24–26
East German State Security Service, 23
Bereich 6/ZAIG development, 26–29
Department for Agitation development, 26–29 between public relations and media control, 33–34 public relations and propaganda, 24–26

_Emergent Organization, The_, 111

‘End the Drone Wars’, 131

Enemy agents, 26–27

Estonia, 73–75

Eternity, loss of, 43–44

Ethnic territoriality principle, 56–57

European Union (EU), 241

Federalism, 54–55

Fictional cinema, Bereich 6/ZAIG and Department for Agitation in, 29–33

Fight-specific, 146–147

Flash balls, 6–7

Formalization of labour movement, 204

_Four Theories of the Press_, 52

Framing, 86

alternative media’s frames, 88–90
dissent in Post-Soviet communicative ecologies, 86–90

mainstream media’s frames, 86–88

process, 180, 188–190

Twitter and, 245–246

Freedom House report, 75

‘Futurist Synthetic Theater’, The, 13–14

Futurists, 16

_Gavary praudu_ (GP), 86, 88

Geeks of the Squares

ideological production in protest technologies and media revolutions, 268–274

masses connecting, 261–266 methods, 266–268

movement actors’ experiences of use of protest technologies, 276–278

orders of dissent and agentive action, 265 participant interviews, 267

protest technologies and national political cultures, 274–276

German Democratic Republic (GDR), 23

Glass ceiling, 199

Google Analytics, 215–216

Goteo platform, 268, 269

Graphs, 247–248

Grassroots’ organizations, 99

‘Great Soviet Dream’, 38–39

‘Great Utopia’, 13–14

Greek ‘Do Not Pay’ Social Movement.

_See also_ Hong Kong’s Umbrella Movement (2014), 227–228 communicating dissent, 228–231

‘disclosure’, 232–237

methodology, 231–232

‘remembrance’, 232–237

#grefendum, 242

#Grexit for Greece, 242, 246, 248–251

semantic network, 251–253

_Guardian, The_, 134

Halle’s tripartite typology, 26

Hashtags, 242, 246

Hierarchical meritocratic system, 41

_Homo sapiens_, 43–44

_Homo Sovieticus_, 43–44

Hong Kong’s Umbrella Movement (2014), 161–162, 164

co-production of protest art in urban space, 168–170

collaborative protest art, creative resistance and participation, 171–173

Lefebvre’s spatial triad, 162–163

method, 165

representational spaces and symbols of protest art, 165–168 space production and urban social movements, 163–164

‘Hooliganism’, 14

Horizontal structures, 185
Index

24-Hour rule, 117

Identity, 263 identity-based movements, 201–202
‘Identization’, 110–114, 116
Ideological production in protest technologies and media revolutions, 268–274

Impressions, 236–237
In-Page Analytics, 215–216
Inclusiveness, 213
Information
ecology, 84
operations, 97–98

Information and Communication Technologies (ICTs), 61, 178, 183–186 framing process and, 188–190 mobilization structures and, 183–186 political opportunity structure and, 186–188 struggle to dominating ICT terrain, 190–193 as tools for movement action, 178–180

Inoffizielle Mitarbeiter (IM), 29
Institute of Apiculture, 44–45
Institutional Left, 202–203
Institutionalization, 143–144
International solidarity, 197–198
Internet, 108, 179
crowds, 69
freedom, 74–75
memes, 65–68

Interpersonal communication, 52
‘Ironic media activism’, 4

Isola Art Center, 146–147

KnowDrones, 132–133
Kundschafter, 25, 27–28

Labour movement, 197–199, 201–202
‘Last Soviet republic’, 69
Latent capacity theory, 63–64
Lavoratori dell’Arte (LdA), 142
Leaderless structures, 185
Lefebvre’s spatial triad, 162–163
Lefebvre’s theory of spatial reproduction, 5, 161–162

Liberal meme makers, 69
Libertarianism, 101–102
Lion Rock, 166–167
Localization, 54

Macao
conflicts and division of labour in Macao’s experience, 147–151 cooperation within, 152–153 organizational model, 141–142 refusal of horizontality, 141–142

Machiavellians: Defenders of Freedom, The, 98

Maduro government, 7–8

Main departments (Hauptabteilung), 25–26

Mainstream media’s frames, 86–88

Managerial Revolution, The, 98

Manichean ideological trap, 101–102
Manicheanism, 101–102
Marxian materialist interpretation, 62–63

Mass self-communication, 212
‘Mass vigilance’ (Massenwachsamkeit), 27–28
‘Material for argumentation’, 23

Materiality of Macao’s relations, 145–147

Media, 112, 230
revolutions, 9

Mediation, 111
Mediatization, 111
Mediatized interactions, 52–53
Mediatized quasiinteractions, 52–53
Melucci’s conceptualization of collective identity, 108
Ministerium für Staatssicherheit (MfS), 23
Ministry of National Defence (MfNV), 31
Ministry of the Interior (MdI), 31
Mobile phones, 184
Mobilization, 64
structures, 178–179, 183–186
Movement actors’ experiences of use of protest technologies, 276–278
‘Movements of the squares’, 107
Mozilla, 214
Multi-case study approach, 180–181
#Muppetology, 249
Music, 13–14
‘Music is Before all Else’, 13–14
Musicians, 13–14

Nairaland, 184
Nasha Niva newspaper, 86
National political cultures, 274–276
‘New landlord of Belarus?’, The, 89
‘New social movements’, 199–202
‘New Year gateway to peace’, 131
Nirbhaya movement, 184
NodeXL, 248
‘Non-communist Left’, 99
Noncontentious content, 219
#NotABugSplat, 136–137

OBERIU group, 20
Oblomovism, 41
‘Occuper il conflitto’, 148
Occupy activists, 4, 108
Occupy London, 113, 120–121
Occupy London Stock Exchange (OccupyLSX), 113, 115, 117, 120
Occupy mobilization, 64–65

Occupy movement, 107, 113, 214, 264–265
Occupy Nigeria Movement, 177, 181–182, 185–186, 189
Occupy Wall Street, 107, 112–113, 115, 119
Odnoklassniki, 67–68
OGAS, 55
Operative agitation (Operativagitation), 26
Organization studies (OS), 143–144
Organizational communication, 110–112

‘Painted faces’, 16
Participants, 181–182
Participatory culture, 63
Paternalism, 39–40
Peace activists, 131
Perception management, 97–98
‘Performance art’, 13–14
‘Petersburgkaia Gazeta’ newspaper, 17
Plan-based economy, 55
Platform for Affected by Mortgages (PAH), 205
Polarization, 253–257
Political mobilizations, 64–65 opportunity structures, 179, 186–188 participation, 64
socialization, 63
Political communication (PC), 111
‘Political-operative protection’, 23
Populism, 253–257
Post-Crimea consensus, 55
Post-Soviet communicative ecologies, 83 framing dissent in, 86–90
framing issue, 86
methodology, 86
theoretical framework, 84–86
Post-Soviet Russia
rebirth of Soviet communicative control in, 55–57
Russian Academy of Sciences’ Sociological Survey on Russian Dream, 40–42
Russian Idea to Russian Dream, 37–40
Victor Pelevin’s postmodern novel Generation “II”, 42–46
Post-Soviet Russian transition, 51
Press conferences, 26–27
Press office, 26
Presseabteilung, 25–26
Production of Space, The, 162
Professionalization of labour movement, 204
Propiska, 54, 56
Proprietary platforms, 108–109
Protest art
cooproduction of protest art in urban space, 168–170
representational spaces and symbols of, 165–168
Protest communication, 3–4
Protest technologies. See also Information and Communication Technologies (ICTs), 9, 274–276
‘Psychological warfare’ techniques, 101
Public affairs, 97–98
Public diplomacy, 97–98
Public relations (Öffentlichkeitsarbeit), 24–26, 97–98
Quantitative content analysis, 231–232
Rammstein Album Cover, 71–72
‘Remembrance’, 232–237
Representational space, 162–164 and symbols of protest art, 165–168
Representative democracy, 200
Resistance publics, 63–65
Resistant microbloggers, 65–66
Resource mobilization theory, 178
Rhizomatic structures, 185
Royal Air Force (RAF), 131
Russian Academy of Sciences (RAS), 37
Sociological Survey on Russian Dream, 40–42
‘Russian avant-garde’, 13
Russian dream, 42, 45
Russian futurists, 15
‘Russian hackers’, 102
Russian idea and the American dream, The, 37–38
Russian Idea to Russian Dream, 37–40
‘Russian meddling’, 97, 102
Russian media environment, 65–66
‘Russian oligarchs’, 97
Russian protest movement, 51
Russian Revolution, 1, 2, 9
Russian society, 37
Securitization, 273
Security, 273
Self-reflection, 118
Short message service (SMS), 178
Silent revolution, 199–200
Situationist International, 202–203
Social media, 108–109, 184, 213
Social movement (SM). See also Greek ‘Do Not Pay’ Social Movement, 118, 143, 228, 230 case study and methods, 142–143
conflicts and division of labour in Macao’s experience, 147–151 coordination within Macao, 152–153 framing organization in hybrid movements, 143–145
materiality of Macao’s relations, 145–147
Social networks, 248–251
Index

US Committee for Public Information (CPI), 101

Ventriloquism, 118–119
Victor Pelevin’s postmodern novel
   Generation “II”, 37, 42–46
Victory over the Sun, 14–15
‘Virtual democracies’ phenomenon, 70
Visual analysis, 165
Visual Arts Section, 19
Visualizations, 247–248
VKontakte, 67–68

Web 1. 0, 212–214
Web 2. 0, 212–214, 229

Western intelligence agencies, 24
Whatsapp, 184
Women workers, 199
Workers World, 130–131

Xenophobia, 89
Yellow vests, 6–7

YouTube’s ‘alternative’ TV channels, 86

Zentrale Auswertungs-und Informationsgruppe (ZAIG), 28–29