The Emerald Handbook of Public Administration in Latin America
This page intentionally left blank
The Emerald Handbook of Public Administration in Latin America

EDITED BY

B. GUY PETERS
University of Pittsburgh, USA

CARLOS ALBA TERCEDOR
Autonomous University of Madrid, Spain

CONRADO RAMOS
Universidad de la Republica, Uruguay
Table of Contents

About the Editors ix
List of Contributors xi
Preface xv

Introduction: Focus and Book Outline 1
Conrado Ramos and B. Guy Peters

Chapter 1  A Brief Story of Latin American Public Administration: A Particular Model 9
Conrado Ramos and Alejandro Milanesi

Country Chapters

Chapter 2  Public Administration in Argentina: Characterization and Analysis of the Political–Institutional Dynamic 23
Mercedes Iacoviello, Diego Pando and Mercedes Llano

Chapter 3  Public Administration in Brazil: The Elusive State – Eighty Years Attempting to Build a Professional and Responsive Public Service 53
Francisco Gaetani, Pedro Palotti and Roberto Pires

Chapter 4  Modernizing the State to Strengthen Democracy: Public Sector Reforms in Chile 81
Susan Alberts, Mireya Dávila and Arturo Valenzuela
Chapter 5  Colombia: Public Administration in the Midst of Uncertainty
Maria Victoria Whittingham

Chapter 6  Costa Rican Public Administration: Neo-Weberian State, Fragmentation, and Dilemmas
Violeta Pallavicini

Chapter 7  Mexico’s Public Administration: Huge Problems, Partial Solutions
María del Carmen Pardo

Chapter 8  Paraguay: The Supremacy of Informality in Public Administration
Christian Schuster

Chapter 9  Public Administration in Uruguay: Modernization in Slow Motion
Conrado Ramos, Alejandro Milanesi and Diego Gonnet Ibarra

Cross Country Chapters

Chapter 10  The Management of Public Personnel in Latin America: Scope and Limits of a Modern Civil Service
José-Luis Méndez

Chapter 11  Bureaucracy and Politics
Juan Javier Negri

Chapter 12  The Center of Government in Latin America
Martin Alessandro and Mariano Lafuente

Chapter 13  Digital Public Administration in Latin America: Digitalization, Public Innovation, and the Future of Technologies in the Public Sector
J. Ignacio Criado

Chapter 14  The Dilemmas of Governance in Latin America
Cristina Zurbriggen
Chapter 15  Good Governance and Corruption in Latin America  407
Manuel Villoria

Chapter 16  Enhancing Accountability Through Results-oriented Monitoring and Evaluation Systems  437
Sonia M. Ospina, Nuria Cunill-Grau and Claudia Maldonado

Conclusion: The Present and Future of Public Administration in Latin America  475
Conrado Ramos and B. Guy Peters

Index  489
About the Editors

B. Guy Peters is Maurice Falk Professor of Government at the University of Pittsburgh, and former president of the International Public Policy Association. He is currently Honorary Editor of the Journal of Comparative Policy Analysis and editor of the International Review of Public Policy. His most recent publications are Administrative Traditions (Oxford University Press) and Governance, Politics and the State, second ed. (Macmillan, with Jon Pierre).

Carlos Alba Tercedor is Professor Emeritus of Political Science and Public Administration at the Autonomous University of Madrid. During his long career, he wrote extensively in areas such as administrative reform, local government, administrative elites, and administrative reform. He also was involved in a number of projects and consultancies with the government of Spain and a number of international organizations.

List of Contributors

Susan Alberts
Independent Consultant, Washington DC

Martin Alessandro
Professor of Public Policies at the Master in Public Policies, School of Government, Universidad Torcuato di Tella

J. Ignacio Criado
Associate Professor/Senior Lecturer in Political Science and Public Administration, and Head, Research Group Innovation, Technology and Public Management, Department of Political Science and International Relations, Universidad Autónoma de Madrid

Nuria Cunill-Grau
Principal Researcher at CEDER, Universidad de los Lagos, Chile

Mireya Davila
Assistant Professor in Public Policies at the Institute of Political Studies, Universidad de Chile

Francisco Gaetani
Coordinator of the Professional Master Program of Public Administration, Fundación Getulio Vargas-Río de Janeiro

Diego Gonnet Ibarra
Public Policy Specialist at the Office of Planning and Budgeting. Presidency of Uruguay

Mercedes Iacoviello
Public Administration specialist and Visiting Researcher at CEDES

Mariano Lafuente
Lead Public Management Specialist at IADB

Mercedes Llano
Associate Professor in Political Sciences at the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences, Universidad Nacional de Cuyo and Visiting Researcher at CEDES

Claudia Maldonado
Professor of Public Administration at the Public Administration Division, CIDE-Mexico
José-Luis Méndez  Professor of Political Science at Center for International Studies, El Colegio de Mexico, Mexico

Alejandro Milanesi  Assistant Professor Government and Public Administration at the Department of Political Sciences, Universidad de la República, Uruguay

Juan Javier Negri  Professor of Political Science at the School of Politics and Government, Universidad Nacional de San Martín, Argentina

Sonia M. Ospina  Professor of Public Management and Policy at the Wagner Graduate School of Public Service, New York University

Violeta Pallavicini  Associate Professor in Public Administration at the School of Public Administration, Universidad de Costa Rica

Pedro Palotti  Researcher at the Institute for Applied Economic Research and Professor in Public Administration at the National School of Public Administration and at the Public Law Institute of Brasilia

Diego Pando  Professor in Public Management at the School of Business Management, Universidad de San Andrés

María del Carmen Pardo  Associate Professor in Public Administration at the Public Administration Division, CIDE-Mexico

Roberto Pires  Researcher at the Institute for Applied Economic Research and Professor at the National School of Public Administration

Conrado Ramos  Professor of Government and Public Administration at the Department of Political Sciences, Universidad de la República, Uruguay

Christian Schuster  Professor in Public Management at the School of Public Policy, University College London

Arturo Valenzuela  Emeritus Professor of Government and International Service, Georgetown University, Washington DC
Manuel Villoria
Professor of Political Science and Administration at the Faculty of Social Sciences and Law, Universidad Rey Juan Carlos, Madrid

María Victoria Whittingham
Professor in Public Policy at the Escuela Superior de Administración Pública, Colombia

Cristina Zurbriggen
Aggregate Professor of Public Policies at the Faculty of Social Sciences, Universidad de la República, Uruguay
This page intentionally left blank
Preface

This Handbook is the culmination of many – too many – years of work attempting to bring together a collection of studies of public administration in Latin America. The project began approximately a decade ago and was motivated by the belief that there was inadequate knowledge about public administration in Latin America. There was a great deal of legalistic discussion on the ways administration should function, but much less about how public administration in these countries functioned in practice. A number of scholars had been publishing interesting material, but these needed to be brought together and made more accessible to a wider public, especially for an English-speaking readership. The project was started by Carlos Alba and Guy Peters; when additional energy was needed to complete the project, Conrado Ramos joined the editorial team.

The concept behind this Handbook was to have some chapters that covered the administrative systems of individual countries, as well as some that covered important topics in public administration across the region. We could not cover all Latin American countries with individual chapters, so attempted to include chapters that provided information about the largest systems, as well as those with distinctive features. Those choices were, of course, also constrained by the availability of authors interested in participating in the project. Likewise, the comparative chapters were intended to cover several important aspects of public administration in these countries; however, there is a big emphasis on issues of accountability, reflecting the history of corruption and clientelism in Latin American administrations.

In addition to those of us with chapters included in this volume, several other people and organizations have helped make this project a reality. We received funding from the Ministry of Public Administration in Spain for an initial conference. The United Nations Development Fund supplied additional resources for cooperation among authors. In addition, the Latin American Studies Center at the University of Pittsburgh provided additional resources.

This book has benefited greatly from the excellent editing and management by Morgan Fairless at the London School of Economics. We would also like to acknowledge the patience and professionalism displayed by Hazel Goodes and her colleagues at Emerald Publishing. They have endured endless delays in the completion of the manuscript with grace and have continued to support the project regardless. They, like us, are thankful that the project is now complete. We hope the readers of this Handbook are equally as happy.

B. Guy Peters
Conrado Ramos
Carlos Alba