

Index

- Abstract conceptualization (AC), 99–100
- Acceptance, 54–57
- Active experimentation (AE), 99–100
- Adaptation, 28–29
- Altercasting, 197–199
- Assimilation, 110, 112
- Australian organizations intercultural management
 - assimilation cell, 110
 - counterproductive workplace behavior (CWB), 111
 - depersonalisation, 115
 - diversity, 110
 - economy, 108–109
 - emotional labor theory, 114
 - equity, 111
 - ethnographic research, 114
 - first-generation professional immigrants, 119
 - formal inclusion, 109
 - Global Financial Crisis recent immigrants, 119
 - global immigration policy, 107–108
 - high priority, 108
 - immigrant employees, 113–114
 - inclusion/exclusion framework, 109
 - intermittent episodes, 110
 - low-belongingness, 110
 - opportunity, 109
 - psychological contract, violation of, 115–116
 - race-based stereotyping, 110
 - Racial Discrimination Act, 108, 113
 - racism, 109
 - skilled immigration, 108, 116
- Awareness, 170
- Benevolence, 87
- Blended identities, 196–197
- Broad-based black economic empowerment (BBBEE), 160
- Bubblegum machine, 97
- Calibrated tongue, 29
- Career requirements, 148
- Central processing unit (CPU), 68
- Collectivism, 103
- Commitment, 154–155
- Communication, 1–2
- Community-building initiatives, 210–211
- Complex organizational settings, 141–142
- Computed mediated communication, 53
- Conceptualizations of culture, 3–8
- Concrete experience (CE), 99–100
- Conscious competence, 46
- Conscious incompetence, 46
- Conversation, 174–175
- Counterproductive workplace behavior (CWB), 111
- Covid-19, 61–63
- Cross-cultural conflict
 - barriers, 177–179
 - calming emotions, 182–185
 - conflict resolution approach, 188–189
 - conversation, 174–175, 188
 - cross-cultural communication, 188–189
 - cultural values, 175–177
 - disputants problem solving, 179–180

- embodying values, 185
- intercultural management, 174
- interests, 175–177
- listening, 174–175
- open-ended questions, 185
- theoretical framework, 181
- Cross-cultural interaction
 - communication, 1–2
 - conceptualizations of culture, 3–8
 - critical questions, 8
 - Cultural Frame Shifting Paradigm, 7
 - cultural heterogeneity, 6
 - Cultural Mosaic, 6
 - Ethnolinguistic Fractionalization (ELF) framework, 5–6
 - expatriates, 8, 11, 13, 15
 - GLOBE project, 3–5
 - host country nationals (HCNs), 2–3, 8–11, 13, 15
 - intensity, 7–8
 - leadership, 13–15
 - local hosts, 10–11
 - matrix algebra, 5–6
 - multicultural teams (MCTs), 2–3, 21, 25
 - national level, beyond values, 3–5
 - negotiation, 16–21
 - power asymmetry, 20
 - quality of the communication experience (QCE), 19–20
 - rate, 7–8
 - strategic context, 16–21
 - subcultures, 5–6
 - values-based theories, 3
- Cross-cultural management (CCM)
 - career and identity requirements, 148
 - commitment, 154–155
 - complex organizational settings, 141–142
 - context, 145–146
 - current problem, 142–143
 - dominant identity requirements, 151–154
 - language, 148–150
 - methodology, 146–147
 - mobility, 154–155
 - power mechanism, 144–145
 - science, 147, 150–151, 154
 - solutions, 143–144
 - studies and practice, 142–145
- Cross-cultural variations, 102–103
- Cultural brokering
 - culture broker, 69–70, 73, 75
 - emerges, 77–79
 - Finally a Job! Program, 76–77, 79
 - integration of refugees, Sweden, 72
 - integration support efforts for refugees, 79–81
 - swimming, Ramadan, 75–76
 - Together for Jobs and Integration (TJI) project, 73–76
- Cultural dimensions studies, 191–193, 202
- Cultural Frame Shifting Paradigm, 7
- Cultural heterogeneity, 6
- Cultural Mosaic, 6
- Culture, 192–193
 - broker, 69–70, 73, 75
 - identity, 132–133
 - values, 175–177
- Data
 - analysis, 163
 - collection, 163
 - reporting, 164
- Depersonalisation, 115
- Disconfirmed expectations, 43–44
- Diversity, 110, 157–158, 160, 162
- Dominant identity requirements, 151–154
- E-collaboration, 53–54
- Educational institutions, 124, 128
- Electronic communication technologies, 58
- Emotional labor theory, 114
- Empirical tests, 88–93
- Employers, 125–126, 128
- Engineering companies, 159–160
- Equity, 111

- Ethical considerations, 163–164
- Ethiopian environment, 97–98
- Ethnic identity confirmation, 85–87
 - knowledge sharing, 87–88
 - situations, 89
 - trustworthiness, 87–88
- Ethnicity-based expatriate selection strategy, 85
- Ethnocentrism of universality (EU), 39
- Ethnographic research, 114
- Ethnolinguistic Fractionalization (ELF) framework, 5–6
- Exclusionary responses, 134–135
- Expatriate cultural identity negotiation strategies
 - cultural identity, 132–133
 - definition, 133–134
 - exclusionary responses, 134–135
 - expatriate responses. See Expatriate responses
 - expatriation success, 132–133
 - global mobility, 132
 - integrative responses, 134–135
 - managerial implications, 139
 - multicultural employees, 132–133
- Expatriate responses
 - host culture, 134–135
 - identity negotiation strategies, 136–139
 - psychological mechanisms, 136
- Experience, 170
- Experiential learning theory, 99–101
- Facebook, 63
- False consensus effect (FCE), 40–41
- Femininity, 103
- Finally a Job! Program, 76–77, 79
- First-generation professional immigrants, 119
- Fixed mindset (FM), 41–42
- Flexible automation, 159
- Foreign accent, 112
- Fundamental attribution error (FAE), 41
- Future orientation, 102
- Gastronomic tastes, 29
- Gender egalitarianism, 102
- Gig economy, 68
- Global community, 1–2
- Global Financial Crisis recent immigrants, 119
- Global immigration policy, 107–108
- Global Leadership and Organizational Behavior Effectiveness Research (GLOBE) Study, 3–5, 102, 104, 191–192
- Global mobility, 132
- Governmental organizations, 123
- Group formation, 201–202
- Growth mindset (GM), 41–42
- High mobile telework, 54
- Hofstede, G., 3, 102–103, 191–194, 202, 207
- Host country employees (HCEs)
 - empirical tests, 88–93
 - ethnic identity confirmation, 85–87
 - ethnicity-based expatriate selection strategy, 85
 - identity confirmation, 85
 - methodological contributions, 93–94
 - practical implications, 94–95
 - self-categorization theories, 84
 - social identity perspective, 84
 - theoretical contributions, 93–94
- Host country nationals (HCNs), 2–3, 8–11, 13, 15
 - expatriate responses, 134–135
- Human resources (HR), 174
- Hypotheses, 105
- Identity
 - confirmation, 85
 - levels of, 197
 - requirements, 148
 - theory, 194–195
- Identity traits, 196
- Immigrant employees, 113–114
- Inclusion/exclusion framework, 109

- Individualism, 103
- Industry 4.0, 159–160, 166–167
- Informal communication channels, 208–209
- In-group collectivism, 102
- Institutional collectivism, 102
- Integration of refugees, 79–81
 - cultural brokering, 69–70, 77, 79, 81
 - educational institutions, 124
 - employers, 125–126, 128
 - Finally a job! program, 76–77, 79
 - governmental organizations, 123
 - media, 124–125
 - multistakeholder engagement, 127
 - nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), 124
 - researchers, 125
 - stakeholder, 122–126
 - Sweden, 72
 - swimming, Ramadan, 75–76
 - Together for Jobs and Integration (TJI) project, 73, 76
- Integrity, 87
- Intensity, 7–8
- Intercultural interactions, 36–38, 43, 47–48, 51, 192, 194
- Intercultural Interaction Space (IIS), 7
- Intercultural management emotional aspects, 168–169
- Intercultural sensitivity
 - conscious competence, 46
 - conscious incompetence, 46
 - disconfirmed expectations, 43–44
 - ethnocentrism of universality (EU), 39
 - false consensus effect (FCE), 40–41
 - fixed mindset (FM), 41–42
 - fundamental attribution error (FAE), 41
 - growth mindset (GM), 41–42
 - isomorphic attributions (IAs), 41–43
 - learning how to learn (LHL), 44–45
 - mindful competence, 45–47
 - motivated reasoning (MR), 39–40
 - organizationally relevant
 - cross-cultural skills, 47–50
 - theory-guided practical tips for managers, 36–50
 - theory of collectivism, 37–38
 - theory of individualism, 37–38
 - unconscious incompetence, 45–47
 - Universality of ethnocentrism (UE), 38
 - well-meaning conflict (WMC), 38, 42
- Intercultural situation, 194–195
- Intercultural training, 206–207
- Intermittent episodes, 110
- International distribution strategy, 31–32
- International Labour Organization (ILO), 60
- International pricing strategy, 32–33
- International product strategy, 29–30
- International promotional strategy, 33
- International teams, 200–201
- Internet service, 66
- Interpersonal awareness
 - altercasting, 197–199
 - culture, 192–193
 - decentralize identities, 199–200
 - dominant models, 192–193
 - facilitation, 200–201
 - identity theory, 194–195
 - identity traits, 196
 - international teams, 200–201
 - managers application, 199
 - managers of teams, 191
 - motivations, 192
 - multiple identities, 196
 - nationality, 193–194
 - negotiated culture, 192
 - self and identity, 195–196
 - unpredictable intercultural interactions, 194
- Intersectional identities, 200–201
- Isomorphic attributions (IAs), 41–43

- Kavli case
 - adaptation, 28–29
 - international distribution strategy, 31–32
 - international pricing strategy, 32–33
 - international product strategy, 29–30
 - international promotional strategy, 33
 - Norwegian invention, 27
 - theory of friction, 28–29
- Kolb learning model, 99–101
- Language, 148–150
- Leadership, 13–15
- Learning how to learn (LHL), 44–45
- Learning styles
 - African context, 103–104
 - cultural context of, 101–104
- Listening, 174–175
- Local hosts, 10–11
- Manipulation material design, 89
- Masculinity, 103
- Matrix algebra, 5–6
- Media, 124–125, 128
- Metacognitive cultural intelligence, 169–170
- Microsoft Teams, 66
- Mindful competence, 45–47
- Mobility, 154–155
- Motivated reasoning (MR), 39–40
- Motivations, 192
- Multicultural employees, 132–133
- Multicultural South African context, 159–160
- Multicultural teams (MCTs), 2–3, 21, 25
- Multiple identities, 196
- Multistakeholder engagement, 127
- National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), 55
- National Conflict Resolution Center (NCRC), 173–174
- Nationality, 193–194, 199
- Nationwide Insurance, 63
- Negotiated culture, 192, 199
- Negotiation, 16–21
- New York Peace Institute (NYPI), 173–174
- Nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), 124, 126, 128
- Norwegian invention, 27
- Occasional telework, 54
- Online collaboration zones, 54
- Person identities, 196
- Positive intercultural management (PIM)
 - attitudes, 166–167
 - broad-based black economic empowerment (BBBEE), 160
 - data collection and analysis, 163
 - data reporting, 164
 - diversity, 157–158, 160, 162
 - engineering companies, 159–160
 - ethical considerations, 163–164
 - findings, 164–169
 - flexible automation, 159
 - Industry 4.0, 159–160, 166–167
 - intercultural management
 - emotional aspects, 168–169
 - legislation, 157–158
 - limitations of research, 164
 - metacognitive cultural intelligence, 169–170
 - multicultural South African context, 159–160
 - quality criteria, 164
 - recruitment, 158
 - research design, 162
 - retention, 158
 - setting and sample, 162–163
 - technological innovation, 157–158, 164, 166
 - technologist communication, 160–162
- Power
 - asymmetry, 20

- mechanism, 144–145
- Psychological contract, violation of, 115–116
- Quality of the communication experience (QCE), 19–20
- Race-based stereotyping, 110
- Racial Discrimination Act, 108, 113
- Racism, 109, 113
- Recruitment, 158
- Reflection, 170
- Reflective observation (RO), 99–100
- Research design, 162
- Resistance, 57–60
- Retention, 158
- Role identities, 196
- Science, 147, 150–151, 154
- Self-assessment, 170
 - weaknesses, 170
- Self-categorization theories, 84
- Self-verification theory, 85–86
- Shared culture, 199, 202
- Shared vision, 204–205
- Skilled immigration, 108, 116
- Social distancing, 61, 63
- Social identities, 84, 196
- Stakeholders, 122–126
 - educational institutions, 124
 - employers, 125–126, 128
 - governmental organizations, 123
 - media, 124–125
 - multistakeholder engagement, 127
 - nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), 124
- Stanford Institute for Economic Policy Research (SIEPR), 61–62
- Stereotyping, 110, 112–113, 198–201
- Streaming media, 68
- Subcultures, 5–6
- Swimming, Ramadan, 75–76
- Team building, 200
- Technological innovation, 157–158, 164, 166
- Technologist communication, 160–162
- Technology training, 207–208
- Telecentres, 54
- Telecommuting, 54
- Telework, 54
 - acceptance, 54–57
 - computed mediated communication, 53
 - Covid-19, 61–63
 - e-collaboration, 53–54
 - flexibility, 57
 - high mobile telework, 54
 - history of, 54–60
 - occasional telework, 54
 - online collaboration zones, 54
 - resistance, 57–60
 - social distancing, 61
 - telecentres, 54
 - telecommuting, 54
- Theory-guided practical tips for managers, 36–50
- Theory of collectivism, 37–38
- Theory of friction, 28–29
- Theory of individualism, 37–38
- Together for Jobs and Integration (TJI) project, 73–76
- Training and Development (T&D) program
 - abstract conceptualization (AC), 99–100
 - active experimentation (AE), 99–100
 - bubblegum machine, 97
 - collectivism, 103
 - concrete experience (CE), 99–100
 - designing, 98–99
 - Ethiopian environment, 97–98
 - experiential learning theory, 99–101
 - femininity, 103
 - individualism, 103
 - Kolb learning model, 99–101
 - learning styles. See Learning styles
 - masculinity, 103
 - reflective observation (RO), 99–100
 - research, 105–106
 - risk taking, 103

- uncertainty avoidance, 103
- Transformational leadership style,
 - 209–210
- Trompenaars and Hampden Turner,
 - 191–193, 202
- Twitter, 63

- Uncertainty avoidance, 102–103
- Unconscious incompetence, 45–47
- Universality of ethnocentrism (UE), 38

- Values-based theories, 3
- Virtual community. See Virtual teams
- Virtual Community Guide, 205–206
- Virtual Community Management
 - Team, 210
- Virtual private networks (VPNs), 66
- Virtual teams
 - community-building initiatives,
 - 210–211
 - informal communication channels,
 - 208–209
 - intercultural training, 206–207
 - monitoring, 211
 - reality, 211
 - shared vision, 204–205
 - technology training, 207–208
 - transformational leadership style,
 - 209–210

- Web-based meeting platforms, 68
- Well-meaning conflict (WMC), 42
- Working from home
 - benefits of, 61
 - drawbacks, 61–63
- World Health Organization (WHO),
 - 61