INDEX

Abiru, 111
Abolition, 80 in India, 78
   long shadow, 95–97
Accidental drift theory, 205–208
Acculturation, 39–40
African slaves, 87
Altepeme, 145–146
Amazon Echo, 224
Ana murinda, 150
Analytic bifurcations, 26
Anglo-conformity, 39
Angola, 137
Anticolonialism, 166
Apple, 222
Artificial intelligence (AI), 222–223, 238, 241
Asia for Asiatics, 25, 36
Assimilationist approach, 39
Asymmetrical triadic relationship, 29–30
Atlantic Slave Trade, 147–148
Atlepeltl, 145–146
Audio-to-text technology, 224
Bahutu Manifesto, 111–112
Bicentennial Quilt, 203–204
Big data, 223
Black Radical Tradition, 164
Black Ships, 31–32
Bolivian diplomatic bureaucracy. See also Diplomatic bureaucracy, 57 rapid reform and expansion of, 62–64
Bolivian foreign-affairs bureaucracy, 61
Bureaucracy, 56
Cambridge Analytica, 222
Capitalism, 140, 222–223
Classification, 79
   regimes, 80–82
Colonial commodity, 231–232
Colonial elites, 227
Colonial ideologies, 231
Colonial policies, 212
Colonial resignification, 198, 201, 205
Colonial social structures, 156–157
Colonial violence, 226–227, 229
Colonialism, 14, 137, 163–164, 168, 223
Colonization, 140
Colored empire, 24–25, 29–30, 46–47
Commodification of human, 227–229 of life, 140
Comparative approaches, 8
Confucianism, 31
Continuity and change in racial categorization and identification, 12–13
Corporations, 234–235
Cultural assimilation, 39–40
Data
   colonialism, 225–226
   economies, 223
   labeling, 235–236
   relations, 225–226
Decolonial remapping, 209–210
Decolonial resignification, 198, 205
Dell, 222
Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC), 234
Depoliticized speech, 197
Digital divide, 223–224
Digital economy, 222–223

251
Digital technology, 223 and current sociological examinations, 223–226
Digital veil, 232–241
colonial pathways, 235–238 persistence of global color line, 233–235 racialized subjection, 238–241
Diplomatic bureaucracy, 56 and desire to intervene in transnational racialization, 69–72 and management of national image, 60–61
Distinct racializations, 82–83
Diversity in premodern India, 83–86
Dōbun dōshu, 35–36
Doctrine of Discovery, 205–206
Dōka, 38–39
Domestic slaves, 87
Dōsoron, 34–35
Du Bois, 24
analysis of capitalism, 226–232 analysis of Japanese empire, 26 legacy, 29–30
Du Boisian frameworks, 222–223, 226
Early modern Europe, political structure of, 151–152
East India Company (EIC), 78–79, 87–88
Ecomateriality of racial-colonial domination, 163, 168
Narragansett, 177–180
plantation, 173–176
reservation, 168–173
Economic inequality, 118
Empires, 24, 192, 195
Enslavement, 140
changing politics of, 152–155 in West Central Africans, 143–155
Environmental sociology, 166–167
Ethnicity, 6, 30, 107
racial oppression and interplay of race and, 26–28
European colonialism, 3–4, 138
European modernity, 9–10
Europeanness, 59
Foxconn, 222
Gacaca, 106, 110, 116
Gaichi, 40
Genocidal processes, 212
Genocide, 106–107, 115
Global approaches, 8
Global borderlands, 9
Global capitalism, 223
Global veil, 229–231
Global/transnational sociology, 24
Google Home, 224
Government reports, 62
Greater East Asia Co-Prosperity Sphere, 36
Guerras pretas, 154
Habyarimana government, 113
Hawai‘i, 192
approaches to empires, nation-states, and sovereignties, 192–195 data, methods, and methodology, 198–200 findings, 201–213
semiotics in settler colonial contexts, 195–198
Hawaiian Homes Commission Act of 1920, 203
Hawaiian Monarchy, 204
Hawaiian scholars, 192
Hewlett-Packard (HP), 222
Hispanic, 109
Historical data sources, 62
Historical/comparative sociology, 24
Honolulu Advertiser, 208
Hutu, 110–116
elite reliance on racial difference as political strategy, 113
Gacaca, 116
political independence and question of race, 111–113
postgenocide, 115–116
Index

precolonial labels and colonial influence, 110–111
Rwandan genocide (1994), 113–115

Identity formation, 79
Igitero, 114
Imbangalas, 150–151
Imperialism, 164
Imperialization of colonial subjects as ingroup racialization, 38–44
Indian Law Commission Reports on Slavery, 86
Indian Ocean slaves, 84
Indian Penal Code (IPC), 91
Indian problem, 64, 67
Indian Reorganization Act, 170
Indian Slave Act, 87–88, 91
Indian slavery, 78, 90 on eve of abolition, 86–88
Indigenous cultural elements, 198
Ingroup racialization, 37–38
Interahamwe, 113
International war and political change in late nineteenth-century Bolivia, 64–66
Inyangamugayo, 116
Isshi dōjin, 41

Japanese empire, 3–4, 25–26, 40–41
Japanese essentialism, 41
Japanese identity, 32
Japanese officials, 30
Japaneseness in global–historical context, 28–38
Jinshu, 30

Kanaka Maoli scholars, 193–194
Kandas, 149–150
Kazoku kokka kan, 33
Kikijos, 150
Kokugaku, 31
Kokugo, 43–44
Kōmin-ka, 41

Kongo and Ndongo Kingdoms, 147–148 social and political structures, 149–150

Lançados, 150–151
Language of self-evidence, 92–94
Latin America, race and state-building in, 57–59
Law Commission Reports, 86
Law Concerning Army Special Volunteers, 44
Legal erasure, 88–92
Legislation, 62
Lithium mining, 233
Lithium Triangle, 233
Luso-Africans, 150–151

Machine learning algorithms, 225
Makongo peoples, 149
Maps, 1–3
of major colonial powers, 2
Mbundu peoples, 149
Meiji Rescript on Education of 1890, 33
Mekranis, 85
Melting-pot, 39
Metanarrative, 196
Mexico, 143
Mexico-Tenochtitlan, 145–146
Migrations, 83–86
Military power, 141
Militourism, 202
Minken, 34–35
Minzoku, 30
Modern world as violent reorganization of communities, 140–142
Modernity, 9–10
European, 9–10
reconceiving, 14–15
MTurkers, 236
Mubikas, 150
Murindas, 149–150
Mwami, 110–111
Mwene ndongo, 150
Myth, 197

Name-changing campaign (sōshi kaimei), 44
Narragansett, 177–180
Narragansett Indian Reservation (NIR), 168–169
Narragansett Indian Wetuomuck Housing Authority (NIWHA), 169
Nation, 106
Nation-states, 192–195
National image management, 60–61
National polity doctrine, 33–34
National Unity and Reconciliation Program, 106
Native land, reconstitution of, 163–168
Natural bonds of blood, 33
Natural language processing (NLP), 224
Naturalization, 197
Navy Volunteer System, 44
Neocolonial relationships, 233
New Christians, 150–151
New foreign ministry, 63
Newspapers, 62
Ngolas, 148
Non-Europeanness, 59

Ontological myopias, 165–166
Ordinary citizens, 5
Orientalism by the Orient, 26, 44, 47

Pan-Africanist framework, 142
Parasitic internment within metanarrative, 201–205
Plantation, 173–176
Political power, 141
Polynesian Problem, 200
Polynesian Voyaging Society (PVS), 198–200
Postgenocide, 115–116
Postrevisionist scholarship, 57
Poverty, 118

Power, 27–28
Predicament, 164
Private style of colonization, 234
Providence Plantations, 162–163
Provincializing Europe, 139–140

Race, 1, 3–4, 24, 56, 79–80, 106–107, 166 in Americas, 3 global study, 7–9
in Latin America, 57–59
race-making, 78
racial oppression and interplay of race and ethnicity, 26–28 regional discourses on, 25–26 scholars, 155–157 social construction, 5–7
sociology of, 1–3
structuralist theories of, 137 theories, 142
Racial containment, 88–92
Racial discourses, 60
Racial oppression and interplay of race and ethnicity, 26–28
Racial oppressors, 27
Racial politics, 57
Racial social structures, 156–157
Racial-colonial domination ecomateriality of, 163, 168
Racialization. See also Transnational racialization, 24, 79–80, 82, 163, 168 negative value, 37–38 in statist politics, 194 of subordinate groups, 25–26
Racialized, (post) colonial hierarchies, 142
Racialized oppressions, 212
Racism, 1, 3–4, 7, 9, 137 and making of modern world, 9–11
sociology of, 1–3
Racist ideology, 138, 155–156
Rebel archive, 198–199
Rechargeable batteries, 234–235
Reservation, 168–173
Resignification theories, 195–198
Resistance, changing politics of, 152–155
Rhode Island, 162–163, 172
Romanticism, 32
Rwanda, 106
  complex binary, 118–120 data and methods, 117
heavy hand of the state, 120–122
Hutu and Tutsi, 110–116 participation vs. livelihoods, 122–124 resentment toward reconciliation, 118–124 symbolic power, 108–110
terminology, 107
Rwandan genocide (1994), 106, 113, 115
Rwandan Patriotic Front (RPF), 106, 116

Secondary sources, 62
Self-Othering, 31–32
Self-racialization, 37–38
Self-recognition, 46–47
Semiotics in settler colonial contexts, 195–198 theories of resignification, 195–198
Settler colonialism, 141, 167, 196, 199
Shidis, 78–79, 85, 95
Signifiers, 195
Sites, 13–14
Situated race-making processes, 11–12
Slave trade, 141
Slave-trading, 89
Slavery, 79–80, 83, 85–87, 137
Slavery Abolition Act of 1833, 87–88
Sobas, 149–150
Social transformation, 137
Sociological gaze, 139–140
Sociology of race and racism, 1–3
Sociostructural assimilation, 39–40
South Asia, 78
South Manchurian Railways Company, 36

Sovereign nations, 209–210
Sovereignty, 192, 195
Standard of civilization, 59–60
State actors, 5
State bureaucracy, 56
State classification regimes, 82
State-building, 56
  in Latin America, 57–59
Status groups, 141
Structural race theories and historical assumptions, 138–139
Structuralist theories of race, 137
Supply chains, 235
Surveillance capitalism, 224–225
Symbolic power, 108–110

Talk back, 58–59
Tenochtitlán conquest, 143–155
Third World Movement, 4
Tlaxcalans, 146
Tomistas, 150–151
Transnational racialization, 61–62 politics and international relations, 59–60 threats in postwar Bolivia, 66–69
Tutsi, 110–116
  elite reliance on racial difference as political strategy, 113
  Gacaca, 116
  political independence and question of race, 111–113
  postgenocide, 115–116
  precolonial labels and colonial influence, 110–111
  Rwandan genocide (1994), 113–115
Tyler Doctrine, 206

United Nations High Commission for Refugees (UNHCR), 239–240
US Black Panther party, 4
US empire, 210–213
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Veil</td>
<td>229–230</td>
<td>Weber’s analysis of modernization</td>
<td>141–142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vis-`a-vis (outgroup) racialization</td>
<td>37–38</td>
<td>World War II (WWII)</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Volk</td>
<td>30</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wakon kansai, 32</td>
<td></td>
<td>Yamato minzoku, 30</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Warfare, changing politics of,</td>
<td>152–155</td>
<td>Yellow race</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>