

ABOUT THE VOLUME EDITORS

Wesley D. Sine is the J. Thomas Clark Professor of Entrepreneurship at the Cornell Johnson School of Management. Professor Sine studies how the institutional environment shapes entrepreneurial outcomes and processes and organizational innovation. He has studied a variety of industrial sectors including alternative energy, internet, and soft drinks in a wide range of countries including United States, Colombia, Mexico, and Egypt.

Robert J. David is associate professor of Strategy & Organization and Cleghorn Faculty Scholar at the Desautels Faculty of Management of McGill University. He is also the director of the Centre for Strategy Studies in Organization at McGill. Professor David studies the evolution of management practices, organizational forms, and industries from an institutional perspective. He holds a Ph.D. in organizational theory from Cornell University.

The editors contributed equally to this endeavor and are listed in random order.