

INDEX

- Ability-motivation-opportunity (AMO) model of HR management, 105
- Active neutral distraction, 10
- Active positive distraction, 10
- Adult attachment system, 60–63
- Affective climate, 21
- Affective events, 3, 21–23
- Affective events theory (AET), 4, 5, 19–21, 37
- Affective job insecurity climate, 22
- Affective revolution in organizational behavior, 4
- Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), 244, 256, 260
- AMO (Ability, Motivation, Opportunity) theory, 4
- Amygdala, 6–7
- Associated emotion-related processes, 14
- Attachment anxiety, 59
- Attachment avoidance, 59
- Attachment-related constructs, 56
- Attachment-related mental representations, 60
- Attachment styles, 59, 61
 - dispositional, 68
 - as moderator, 75–76
- Attachment theory, 56
 - in adulthood, 60–63
 - attachment styles, influence of bias, 61–62
 - “broaden-and-build”
 - cycle of attachment security, 61
 - child’s cumulative attachment experiences and knowledge of them, 58
 - in context of organizations, 63–64
 - hyperactivation and/or deactivation strategy, 58
 - mentoring and, 65–67
 - in OB contexts, 63
 - original, 57–60
 - related social interactions, 59
 - sensitive and responsive attachment, 58
 - to study leadership, 63
- Attentional deployment ER strategies, 10, 31
- Attentional distractions, 10
- Attention deployment, 32
- Authentic expression of a discrete emotion, 11
- Authentic followership, 117
- Authenticity, notion of, 107
 - Kernis perspective of, 109
- Authentic leadership
 - core dimensions of, 108
 - definition of, 108–110
 - follower outcomes, 117–120
 - high-performance human resource practices (HPHRP) and, 110–112
 - impact of authentic leaders and HPHRP on work engagement, 138–139
 - influence processes, 112–116
 - integrating human resource management and, 120–138
 - integrative model of, 106–120

- KSAs (knowledge, skills, abilities, and attributes), 127
- personal and collective identification processes, importance of, 113–114
- positive behavioral modeling and,
 112–113
- positive emotional contagion, 114
- positive social exchanges between authentic leaders and their followers, 116
- self-awareness of the leader, 108
- self-based conception of, 109
- self-determination theory (SDT),
 114–116
- Backward thinking, 170
- Balanced processing, 108
- Ban-the-box legislation, 258–259
- Between-persons phenomenon,
 12–13
 practical HRM implications,
 23–33
- Big data, 220–221
- Blockmodeling, 216–218
 actor attributes in, 221 approach for partitioning signed data, 226–227
 core-periphery structure in,
 224–225
 data reductions and missing data, 219–221
 evaluating human resource management systems, 223
 homogeneity, 229–230
 idealized, 222
 identification and comparison of subgroups, 221–222
 interdependencies between positions of a blockmodel, 222 interpreting blockmodels, 221 in multi-method analysis, 223–224 potential utility of, 218–227 of a social network, 225 structural equivalence and, 219 in succession planning, 223 types of research questions used in, 224–227
 uncovering network structure,
 222–223
 underutilization of, 218–219
- Blockmodeling, application of friendship and collaboration networks, 234, 237
 implementation and results, 232–237
 model selection process for multimodal cluster analysis, 230–232
 nature of subgroup structure, 232–234
 organizational data and research questions, 227–228
 selection of method, 228–230
- Body Shop®, 26
- Boundary conditions of decision-making processes, 305–316 future research, 315–316 individual differences, 305–312 practical suggestions, 314–315 team cohesion, 313–314
- Bounded rationality, 3
- Brain, fear circuits in, 6–7
- Bureaucracies, 158
- “Business Source Complete” search engine, 217
- Career development, 127–129
- Clinical psychology, 31
- Cognitive behavioral therapy, 30–31
- Cognitive reappraisal, 9, 27, 34 interventions, 30
 positive, 32
- Cognitive revolution, 4
- Collective consciousness, 2
- Compensation, 33

- Computerized performance monitoring (CPM), 189
- Convex hull (CHull) method, 230
- Corporate Leadership Council (CLC), 159
- Criminal record, as employment barrier, 252–260
 - affected applicants, 255–256
 - alternatives to relying only on criminal records, 258–260
 - disparate impact on members of a protected class, 256–258
 - screening applicants based on criminal background, 253–254
 - stigma associated with being an ex-offender, 254
- Culture change, 37
- Deactivating strategies, 62
- Descartes' Error* (Damasio), 2
- Developmental psychology, 84
- Digital Natives, 188
- Disability, as employment barrier, 260–268
 - hearing impairments, 264–265
 - intellectual and developmental disabilities, 266–267
 - mental illnesses and psychiatric disabilities, 265–266
 - physical disabilities, 263
 - visual impairments, 263–264
- Dispositional attachment styles, 68
- Distributive justice, 250
- Dualism, 2
- Due process system, 130, 167–168
- Electronic performance appraisal (EPA) systems, 189–191
- Emonet*, 4
- Emotion, defined, 2
- Emotional climate, 21–22
- Emotional Competence Inventory (ECI), 13
- Emotional contagion processes, 22
- Emotional intelligence, 12–13, 25, 33
- Emotional labor, 3, 34–35
 - leadership as, 35–36
 - strategies, 15–18
 - theory, 15
- Emotional regulation, 5, 9
 - implications for HRM, 22–38
 - process model, 8–12
 - in selection and socialization, 26–27
 - strategies, 10
 - in training and development, 30–33
- Emotion-infused workplace scenarios, 34
- Emotions
 - accumulation of, 22
 - authentic expression of, 16
 - discrete, 8
 - faking, 16
 - focused coping, 8
 - gender effect in expression of, 25
 - interaction of HRM and, 23
 - positive and negative discrete (specific), 25
 - relevance to recruitment and selection, 24–26
 - role in organizational life, 3
- Emotion training, 29–30
- Emotion work, 34–35
- Employee assistance program (EAPs), 30
- Employment, barriers to, 244–246
 - confirmation bias, 250
 - coworkers, role of, 250
 - criminal record, 252–260
 - disability, 260–268
 - discussion and conclusion, 273–275
 - issues of cultural and language diversity, 251

- model of barriers, 246–252
 - organizational policies and practices, 250–252
 - racial biases, 246–247
 - review of literature, 252–273
 - socialization issues, 251
 - socioeconomic barriers, 268–273
 - stakeholders, role of, 252
 - stereotype-confirming behavior, 248–250
 - stigma and discrimination, 250
 - supervisor's evaluation of work performance, 249–250
 - workers with mental illness, 250
- Engagement management process, 130
- Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), 257
- Equivalence representations, 220
- Evidence-based management, 164
- Ex-offenders' employment prospects.
 - See* Criminal record, as employment barrier
- Explicit knowledge, 135
- Expression suppression, 16
- Expressive suppression, 9

- Fairness, 163
- Faking emotion, 16
- Fear, 5–9
 - coping strategies, 8
 - as “disconfirmation,” 6
 - inducing and stressful events in the workplace, 7–8
 - neuropsychological perspective of, 6–7
 - as a response to anticipated threat, 5
- Feedback, 26–28, 28–29, 164–165, 181, 188, 201
 - culture, 161–162, 196–197
 - frequent and instant, 183–184
 - incorporate forward-looking, 183
 - regular conversations and developing, 192–193
 - timing and frequency of, 165
- Feedback Environment (FE), 162
 - favorable or positive, 166, 167
- Feedback Environment Scale (FES), 165
- Feedback Intervention Theory (FIT), 165
- Five-level model of emotions
 - between-persons phenomenon, 12–13
 - interpersonal interactions, 14–18
 - organization-wide phenomenon, 20–22
 - teams and workgroups, 18–20
 - within-person phenomenon, 5–12
- Flexible job design, 133–135
- Flow: The Psychology of Optimal Experience* (Csikszentmihalyi), 104
- Formal mentoring relationships, 77

- General equivalences, 220
- Goodness-of-fit analysis in probabilistic models, 220
- Gut reactions, 24

- Health effect of employment, 271–273
- Healthy emotional climate, 21
- High-performance human resource practices (HPHRP), 105, 110–112
 - impact on work engagement, 138–139
 - motivation-enhancing HR practices, 111–112
 - opportunity-enhancing HR practices, 112
 - skill-enhancing HR practices, 111
- High-performance work systems, 288–291

- boundary conditions of decision-making processes, 305–316
- in development of judgment and decision-making, 290–291
- dialectical inquiry and devil's advocacy, 296–299
- gold standard, 294
- impact on firm performance, 292–293
- in implementing aggressive planning and reformation, 294–296
- in-task probing, 316–317
- methodological considerations, 316–317
- micro and macro-level perspectives, 304–305
- positive effect of, 294
- relationship between occupational safety and, 294
- resource-based view, 293
- risks associated with installing, 290
- situation assessment, 300–301
- situation awareness, 299, 301–304
- as strategic decision exemplar, 291–293
- synthesis of decision-making processes and executive learning development, 296
- types of, 293–305
- Hiring matrix, 259
- Homogeneity blockmodeling, 229–230
- Hyper-activating strategies, 62, 77–78
- Hyperactivation and/or deactivation strategy, 58
- Image matrix, 220
- Individual-level restoration, 38
- Individual Placement and Support (IPS), 259–260
- Information/knowledge sharing, 135–137
 - important role in promoting, 136–137
 - intrinsic vs extrinsic motives for, 136
- Interpersonal emotion regulation, 33–34
- Interpersonal interactions, 14–18
- Interpersonal-level emotional regulation, 14–15
- Interview process, 25–26
- Job Characteristics Model, 133
- Job crafting, 133, 134–135
- Job-level restoration, 37–38
- Job satisfaction, 63
- Judgment based on evidence, 167
- Judgment-driven behaviors, 4
- Juniper Networks, 220–221
- K*-means algorithm, 230
- Knowing about, 135
- Knowing how, 135
- Leader–Member Exchange (LMX), 18–20, 166, 198
 - differential quality of, 19–20
 - implications for HRM, 35
 - positive social exchanges, 116
- Leadership as emotional labor, 20, 35–36
- Left frontal hypoactivity, 7
- Likert-type rating scales, 170
- LinkedIn, 220
- The Managed Heart*, 4
- Meditation, 32
- Mentoring literature, 56
- Mentoring relationships, 27, 30, 32, 54–57
 - in anxious/ambivalent styles, 69–71

- attachment theory and, 65–67
- in avoidant individual styles, 70
- career-related support, 65
- closeness and fear of others' rejection, 69–70
- developing a quality relationship (cultivation phase), 71–82
- feelings of security, 71–73
- future, 86–87
- HRM field, implications for, 94–95
- initiation of informal mentoring relationships, 69–71
- mentoring research, implications for, 88–90
- methodological considerations, 90–91
- phases, 67–87
- practice, implications for, 92–94
- psychosocial support, 65
- reciprocal support behaviors, 74–75
- redefinition phase, 85–86
- separation phase, 82–85
- Mentoring schemas, 55
- Mentor–protégé attachment styles, 65–67
 - attachment style fit and relationship quality, 76–82
 - career-related support and role modeling, 80
 - conflict or disagreement, effect of, 78
 - development of peer relationship, 84
 - impact of negative mentoring experiences, 87
 - initiation of informal mentoring relationships, 69
 - reactions to separation, 83–85
 - secure–insecure composition, 76, 78–79
 - supportive behaviors, 74–76
 - tendencies to separate, 82–83
- Mindfulness, 11–12, 27
 - training interventions, 31–32
- Mindfulness based-stress reduction (MBSR), 31
- Motivation, 170
- Motivation-enhancing HR practices
 - career development, 127–129
 - performance management, 129–131
- MSCEIT, 13
- Neural pathways, 6
- Onboarding programs, 27
- On-the-job learning, 27
- Opportunity-enhancing HR practices
 - employee involvement, 131–133
 - flexible job design, 133–135
 - information/knowledge sharing, 135–137
 - work teams, 137–138
- Organizational behavior (OB), 2
- Organizational climate, 21, 110
 - healthy, practical recommendations for, 36–38
- Organizational commitment, 64
- Organizational Justice (OJ), 166
- Organization-level restoration, 37
- Organization-specific emotional display rules, 27
- Organization-wide phenomenon, 20–22
- Over-identification, 64
- Parent–child relationships, 54
- Passive neutral distraction, 10
- Peer-to-peer accountability, 204
- Performance appraisal (PA), 156
 - information processing model of, 160
 - rater accountability, 172, 174, 176, 185, 190, 202, 204
 - revamping of, 182–183

- Performance information, 173
- Performance management, 27–29, 129–131, 156
- in Accenture, 183–184
 - in Adobe, 184
 - business cycles and, 163–164
 - criticism of traditional, 158–169
 - cumbersome, burdensome, time-consuming nature of, 160–164
 - in Deloitte, 159, 162–163, 172
 - developing quality relationships between managers and employees, 197–198
 - enhancing rater motivation, steps to improve, 174–175
 - evaluative ratings, 193–194, 198–199
 - evoking negative reactions in employees and managers, 191–200
 - feedback element of, 161–162
 - fixing across organizations, 200–204
 - manager-employee relationships, cultivating, 193
 - performance ratings, criticism of, 169–178
 - problems, modifications, and potential solutions, 164–169
 - problems with, 158–160
 - promoting fairness and organizational justice, 194
 - reactions to, 194–195
 - relationships between managers and subordinates, 162–163
 - role of fairness in, 199–200
 - in team-based environments, 168
 - technology and appraisal rating accuracy, 177–178
 - traditional performance review systems, issues with, 178–191
 - in Wipro, 162
- Performance ratings, criticism of, 169–178
- accountability of raters, 171–172, 175
 - accuracy, 175–176
 - modifications, and potential solutions, 171–178
 - problems, 169–171
 - technological advances and rater bias, 173
- Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA) (1996), 268, 273
- Positive cognitive reappraisal, 32
- Positive emotional contagion, 114
- Positive social exchanges, 131
- Pre-training phase, 125
- Problem-focused coping, 8
- Procedural justice, 250
- Protégé, 55, 65, 73–74
- insecure attachment styles, 78
 - mentor's sense of security and, 73–74
- Proximity seeking, 58, 62
- Psychophysiological processes, 2
- Psychosocial support, 85
- Realistic job previews (RJPs), 122
- Reciprocal support behaviors, 74–75
- Recruitment, 121–122
- Recruitment processes, 24–26
- Rehabilitation Services Administration (RSA-911), 262
- Relational transparency, 108
- Relationship-specific attachments, 66
- Secure attachment style, 59
- Security-based self-representations, 61
- Selection, 122–124
- processes, 24–26

- See also* Employment, barriers to
- Self-determination theory (SDT),
114–116, 136
- Self-efficacy, 132
- Shared destiny, 223
- Situation awareness concerns with, 299 decision-making model of integrated, 302–304
Endsley’s model, 299
knowledge processing, 303
overt employment of, 304
schemata and mental models,
300–301
at work, 301–302
- Situation Awareness Rating
Technique, 317
- Skill-enhancing HR practices
personnel selection, 122–124
recruitment, 121–122
training and development,
124–127
- Social feedback, 26
- Socialization, 24–27
- Social psychology, 31
- Social roles, 218
- Society for Industrial and
Organizational Psychology
(SIOP), 157
- Socioeconomic barriers to employment, 268–273
child care, 272–273
education and skill-related deficits, 269–271
health deficits, 271–272
rural location, 273
structural and logistical barriers, 272–273
transportation’s role in employment, 272
- Somatic marker, 2
- “Strange Situation” assessment
procedure, 59
- Strategic human resources
management systems, 288
- Tacit knowledge, 135–136
- Team cohesion, effectiveness of,
313–314
- Team Situation Awareness
Global Assessment
Technique, 316
- Technological advances, 203
appraisal rating accuracy and,
177–178
rater bias and, 173
to track performance, 184,
189–191
- Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, 256
- Traditional performance review systems, issues with,
178–191
alignment or fit, issue of, 185, 187 best practice vs best fit, issue of,
185–187
cross-cultural fit, issue of, 187 expectations of the workforce, 180–182
facilitation of performance,
179–180
Millennial workforce, issue of, 188
modifications and solutions, 182–191
performance of millennials, 181
- Training and development initiatives,
124–127
- Trait emotional intelligence, 13
- Transactive memory system, 303
- Transfer of training, 126–127
- Trust, 117
- Trusted assistants, 19
- Veritable sustained performance, 120
- Visceral unity, 64
- Vital engagement, 104

Within-person phenomenon, 5–12
 practical HRM implications,
 23–33
Work engagement, 117–119

Work-life balance, 245
Workplace well-being,
 120
Work teams, 137–138