INDEX

Ability-tracking, 85
Ableism in education, 29–32
Acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS), 22
Agentive manoueverings, 4
Anthology, 203
Articulations, 4 of inclusion, 6–7
Assessments, 36

Bangkok, reconstructing practices of difference in primary schools in, 160–162
Binary distinctions, 193

Capacitation, 88–90
Cartography of SNAPs, 45–46
Centers for Early SEN identification, assessment, and rehabilitation services (CEIARS), 137 Children, 128
  perspectives, 69
Citizen participation, 94
CLASDISA project, 149–150
Cognitive psychology, 39
Colonial legacies, 12
Colonialism, 50–51
Communication, 152–153
Competence-based curriculum (CBC), 137
Contemporary schooling, 30
Context, 159
Contextual elements, 189
Contextualisation, 160
COVID-19 pandemic, 23, 31–32
  and global crises, 24–25
Craniometry, 190
Crises, 22
Critical interrogation of inclusive practices in local contexts, 12–14
Critical social theorists, 189
Critical tools, 66–71 disability arts, 68–69 disability studies, 66–67 students' perspectives, 69–71
Culture, 146

Dance, 69
Danish (DANIDA), 132–133
Data analysis, 189–190
  in international research projects, 160–164 reconstructing practices of difference in primary schools in Bangkok, 160–162
Data collection, 189–190
De-concentration, 97
De-segregation, 114
Debilitation, 86–88
Decentralisation, 97
Decision architecture, 39
Derogation of individual freedom, 25
Devolution, 97
Diagnostics, 36
Disability Law, 57
Disability/disabilities, 3, 9, 128, 150 arts, 68–69 concept, 191
  scholars, 192
  studies, 7–8, 63–64
  studies, 66–67, 190–191
  theory, 6–7
Disabled artists, 68
Disabled dancers, 69
*Dis*human studies, 190–191
*Dis*humanist approaches, 190–191
Disposability, 12–13, 78–79, 82

protection from, 82–83
Diversity, 161
Documentary method, 160
Doing inclusive education research, 181
Dutch school, 54–55

Education
crises and lessons from pandemic, 27–29 system, 115–116
Education for All (EFA), 7–8
Education Ministry, 135
Education Sector Strategic Plan (ESSP), 135
Educational inequality, 122–123
Equality of opportunity, 28
Equity, 86
Ethnography, 160
Exceptionality, 65
Exclusion, 22, 94–95, 172

Fallibility of SNAPs, 38–39, 41
Family dynamics, 81–82
Federal Republic of Germany (FRG), 37, 41
Foucault's heterotopias concept, 51
Foucault's normalisation society, 49–50

Gap theory, 2
General education, 3
Geopolitical caste constructions, 79–81
German Democratic Republic (GDR), 37, 40–41
German education system, 6, 13
German school system discrimination and unequal educational opportunities in, 111–113 inclusive education reforms in, 117
Global North and South, 2
Global South, 149

Hermeneutics, 4 Heterochronias, 51
in Indonesian Schooling, 53–56
Heterotopias, 51 of 'inclusive education', 51–53
History of education, 46
Human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), 22

Ideology of ability, 3
Impairment, 9
'Impairment, Disability, Handicap' concepts, 129
Implementation, 2, 4 gap, 2
Inclusion, 1–2, 43–44, 109–110, 146–147, 172, 190–191, 195–196, 203, 205 complexes, 195
COVID-19 and global crises, 24–25 discourses, 2
discrimination and unequal educational opportunities in German school system, 111–113 diverse practices, 5–10 education crises and lessons from pandemic, 27–29 hierarchised epistemologies, 2–3 inflationary use of concept of inclusion and education policy curtailments, 109–111 issues, 94
multi-level theoretical view of education system, 115–117 and participation from spatial lens, 104–105 postscript on trust and ableism in education, 29–32 via struggles, 11–12 translating ideals, articulating possibility, 3–5 traveling through time, place and theory, 7–10 upheaval and survival, 25–27

Inclusive coexistence, 205
Inclusive education (IE), 1–2, 30–31, 49–51, 65, 137–138, 146–147, 172, 205–206
  ability-tracking, 85
  advances, gains, critiques and criticisms, 78 for Africa, 128–130
  capacitation, 88–90
  challenges of inclusive education research, 172–174 comparative and international perspectives, 181–182 conceptual approaches to research in, 177–181 constructing positive attributes, 83–85 contexts in Rwanda, 133–134
  debilitation, 86–88
  developing capacity for inclusive education services, 136–137
  from disability studies perspective in varied world regions, 192–193
  family dynamics, 81–82
  geopolitical caste constructions, 79–81
  and global trends, 132–133
  heterotopias, 51–53
  literature review, 175–177 observations on and tendencies of qualitative research, 175–177 promoting inclusive education qualities in schools, 137–138 protection from disposability, 82–83 qualities in schools, 137 re-interpretation and curtailments in inclusive education reforms, 113–115 recontextualisation in, 119–122 reforms in German school system, 117
  segregation, 85–86
  struggle for, 23
Inclusive educators, 195–196
Inclusive pedagogy, 205
Inclusive practice, 195–196
Inclusive schooling, 3–4, 8
Inclusive schools of Indonesia, 49–50
  system, 110–111
Inclusive teaching practices, 158 context in international research on inclusive education, 158–160 examples of data analysis in international research projects, 160–164
Indian teacher, interpreting and contextualising interview data of, 163–164
Indonesia, 49–50
  inclusive schools, 49–50
  school authorities, 50
Indonesian Schooling, heterochronias in, 53–56
Inequality, 22
Institutions, 194–195
Integrative learning group system (IL system), 118–119
Intellectual masturbation, 65
International Classification of Functioning and Health (ICF), 150
International collaborations, 146
International human rights-based paradigm, 172
International research methods, 158–160
Interpretative approaches, 177–181
Intersectionality, 10

Karma, 151
Karma TV, 153
Kenya Institute of Special Education (KISE), 132–133
Knowledge-power, 49–51
Kynicism, 68

Learning, 195–196
Local practices excluding voices of parents, 102–103 maintaining power of NGOs, 103–104 multiple complexities of, 98–104 strengthening municipal government entities, 100–102

Mainstreaming, 110
Marxist-Leninist regime, 96
Materiality theories, 9–10
Medical model, 9
Mental health, 26–27
Metamorphosing, 21
Methodological/epistemological commitments in analysing inclusive education, 14–15
Methodology, 177
Micro-physics, 51
  of deviant families, 56–58
Mindfulness concept, 204–205
Mindfulness-based Stress Reduction course, 204
Ministry of Education (MINEDUC), 135

'New Order' of politics, 55
New Theory of School, 115–116, 119
NGOs, 99–100
  maintaining power of, 103–104
Nine Year-Basic Education program (9YBE program), 133–134
  access, enrolment, progress and completions in, 135–136
Non-disposables, 82–83
Normalisation in education, 58–59
  society, 49–50
Normativity, 172, 174
Northernness, 8–9
Not-disposables, 82–83
NVivo, 79

Online education, 23
Order-building technologies, 12–13, 79, 85

Pancasila ideology, 55
Pandemic, 23
  education crises and lessons from, 27–29 negative effects, 27
Paradoxes of trust, 30
Participation, 94
Participatory research, 149–154
Phrenology, 190
Physical movement, 69
PISA, 112
Policies, 128
Post-development, 94–95 contexts of practices, 96–97 framework and spatial lens, 95–96
  methodology, 97–98
Post-humanist perspective, research inclusion from, 193–196
Posthumanism, 190–191 disability studies, posthumanism and inclusion, 190–191 introduction to posthumanist thought, 188–190 research inclusion from post-humanist perspective, 193–196 researching inclusive education from disability studies perspective in varied world regions, 192–193
Posthumanist approaches, 187–188, 191
Posthumanist thought, introduction to, 188–190
Pouvoir-savoir, 49–50
Power, 94, 96
Practice, 128
Pre-schools, 98
Primary schools, 98
ProITEM project, 149–150
Pusat Studi dan Layanan Disabilitas (PSLD), 51–52

Qualitative methods, 177
Qualitative research, 189–190

Reconstructive approaches, 177–181
Recontextualisation, 116 in inclusive education reforms, 119–122 processes in inclusive school development processes, 117–119
Reflexivity, 4–5
Reform, 113, 119
Reformasi movement, 55–56
Reification, 172, 174
Research, 172
  inclusion from post-humanist perspective, 193–196 tools, 189
Researching inclusive education, 63–64
Response-to-Intervention Model (RTI), 122–123 as recontextualisation strategy on part of school actors, 122–123 Rwanda, 128
  access, enrolment, progress and completions in 9YBE & 12YBE levels, 135–136 background influences or setbacks, 130–131
  developing capacity for inclusive education services, 136–137
  early identification, assessment and support provisions of special needs, 136 inclusive education and global trends, 132–133 inclusive education contexts in Rwanda, 133–134 inclusive education for Africa, 128–130 inclusive education qualities in schools, 137 policy implementation status, 135
  promoting inclusive education qualities in schools, 137–138 study in, 134–135
Rwanda Education Board (REB), 137–138

Scholars, 204–205
Schooling, 176
Schools, situation in, 135
Segregation, 85–86
Social coexistence of people, 205
Social model, 67
Social suffering, 9
Socialist-Leninist regime, 96–97
Society for Disability Studies (SDS), 66
Space, 95
Spatial lens, 95–96
Spatial thinking, 95
Special and inclusive education, 65
Special education, 3
Special Educational Needs (SEN), 3–4, 31, 136
  early identification, assessment and support provisions of special needs, 136
Special needs, 128
Special Needs and Inclusive Education (B. Ed SNE), 137
Special Needs Assessment Procedures (SNAPs), 11–12, 36
  cartography of, 45–46
  conceptualizations, 44–45 investigation of individual findings and cases, 42–44 key traits and characteristics, 36–37 localization and potential fallibilities, 37–41 unarticulated–implications for future (comparative) research on, 42–46
Sri Lanka, 78–79
Structural Adjustment Programmes (SAPs), 102–103

Struggle for inclusive education, 23
Students narratives, 78–79
  perspectives, 69–71
Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), 158–159

Teacher training colleges (TTCs), 137 Teachers, 191
  narratives, 78–79
  orientations towards diverse learners, 162–164
Thai teacher, interpreting and contextualising interview data of, 161–162 Theology of politics, 50
'Tourist' model of inquiry, 2
Transformation process, 205–206
Translations, 4–5
Transnational/transcultural research collaboration, 146–147
  communication, 152–153
  knowledge gaps, 147–149 level of content, 150–151 level of scientific socialisation, 151–152
  participatory research, 149–154
  research practice, 153–154 Trust, 23
  paradoxes of, 30
  postscript on, 29–32
12 Years of free education (12YBE), 133–134
  access, enrolment, progress and completions in, 135–136

Uganda National Institute of Special Education (UNISE), 132–133
Uncertainty, 196
Union of Physically Impaired against Segregation (UPIAS), 66
United Nations Convention (UN Convention), 205
United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UN-CRPD), 110–111, 114, 117, 133, 158–159
Universal Design for Learning (UDL), 31
Universal schooling, 27
University of Rwanda CE (UR CE), 137
Ushirikishwaji, 129

Vernacularisation, 4