ABOUT THE VOLUME EDITORS

Brian Jones is Senior Lecturer in Marketing at Leeds Business School, Leeds Beckett University. He has a BA (Honours) in Sociology from the University of Durham, MA, in Industrial Relations from the University of Warwick and a SERC/ESRC-funded PhD from the University of Bradford. His current research areas of interest are in enterprise and entrepreneurship education, entrepreneurial marketing, family businesses, social media, and corporate social responsibility. He has published 15 academic journal papers, edited four books and written seven book chapters. He has worked on projects funded by Regional Development Agencies, Department for International Development, and the European Union (Erasmus+ and ERDF).

William Sun is Reader in Management, and Deputy Director of the Centre for Governance, Leadership and Global Responsibility at Leeds Business School, Leeds Beckett University, where he is also an Independent Chair for PhD Viva Voce Examinations. Dr Sun received his PhD from Leeds Metropolitan University in 2002. His research interests include corporate governance, corporate social responsibility, sustainable business, business ethics, corporate strategy and leadership, and process philosophy. He has published more than 50 journal papers and 16 academic books in corporate governance, CSR, corporate law, and transition economics. He is the author of the research monograph How to Govern Corporations So They Serve the Public Good: A Theory of Corporate Governance Emergence (Edwin Mellen, 2009) and the lead editor of the book Corporate Governance and the Global Financial Crisis: International Perspectives (Cambridge University Press, 2011).

Ralph Tench is Professor of Communication and Director of Research for Leeds Business School at Leeds Beckett University. Professor Tench’s research focuses on two communications strands, firstly for social impact and secondly in organizational strategy, behaviour and performance. His work involves national- and international-funded projects, including working with large organisations and business, such as the annual European Communication Monitor, the largest and longest running worldwide survey in strategic communication which started in 2007 and has funding through until 2022 (www.communicationmonitor.eu). He recently led a €600K EU project on climate change using deliberative engagement. He also completed a similar sized competency project for the communicators across Europe, again funded by the EU, and supports a new EU-funded SME e-learning project (SME-ELEARN). He is part of a research team into Whole Systems Obesity funded by Public Health England. He is a current consultant to the EU working the DG for Employment Services and has been a specialist review and evaluator for the Commission for research funds in 2017. He has written and edited 26 books; published over 30 academic journal papers; presented worldwide more than 60 peer-reviewed papers. His books include the market leading textbook for the public relations subject internationally, Exploring Public Relations, in its fourth edition and with a worldwide readership. Professor Tench is President (2017–2020) of the European Public Relations Research and Education Association (EUPRERA) where he has been a Board Director (2013–2017) and Head of Scientific Committee (2009–2014).
